Some of Brian's results as lead and co-counsel include:

- $2.8 million settlement in a Federal Tort Claim case arising out of a motorcycle accident.
- $2.4 million jury verdict against Farmers Insurance for fraudulent representations made to a local insurance agent.
- $140 million jury verdict for the wrongful death of a woman caused by a transcription error in the patient's medical record and hospital negligence.
- $15 million jury verdict for the wrongful death of a woman who died in a hospital recovery room after she was administered an overdose of propofol (anesthesia drug) by an incompetent nurse.
- $1.79 million jury verdict on behalf of a woman who fractured her hip and femur when she fell at a restaurant.

Brian has also obtained many additional confidential settlements in significant cases involving death, brain injuries, spinal injuries, and other life-altering personal injuries.

Brian is passionate about helping his clients obtain the compensation they deserve. He has been described by his peers as an "exceptionally talented, hard-working and conscientious lawyer." Brian's practice includes handling complex litigation arising out of medical malpractice, products liability, industrial accidents, trucking accidents, and other cases involving wrongful death and catastrophic injuries. Like his partners, Brian is devoted to achieving the best possible result for his clients and knows that only through painstaking preparation, study, and determination can such results be obtained. His courtroom successes have earned him recognition by numerous legal organizations and publications. More importantly, his successes have allowed him to have a positive impact on the lives of many.

Brian, his wife, Breana, and their four children reside in Fairhope. When not practicing law, he enjoys spending time with his family and engaging in all types of physical fitness and outdoor activities.
